KLC Story

Step forward into the wider world with the Korean Language Center!

Rizk Mohammed Mahmoud Sayed

(Moma, Egypt)

- KU KLC student (Regular program Fall 2020 ~ Summer 2021)
- When at home in Egypt, works as a licensed tour guide
- Runs "MomaTours," an Egyptian travel agency for Koreans

Hello! My name is Moma, and I am a tour guide who runs a travel agency called "Moma Tours" for Koreans who are visiting Egypt. After studying Korean for the first time while majoring in tourism at university, and then working as a tour guide for three years, I realized that I had made enough progress in my Korean to understand the needs of Korean tourists. However, there were limitations to studying Korean in Egypt. There were fewer tourists coming to Egypt due to COVID-19, and I saw this time as an opportunity to study Korean more thoroughly. So I came to KU KLC to study Korean and after completing research class in the 2021 Summer semester, I went back to Egypt and am currently running "Moma Tours" again.

Q Why did you choose to study at the Korea University Korean Language Center?
A. When I was searching for a good place to study in Korea, my Korean friends recommended this institution, so I did not hesitate to contact Korea University. The staff kindly answered all my questions, and I liked how the document submission process was simpler than at other institutions.

Q What is it like to learn Korean in Korea?
A. The Koreans that I met in Egypt praised me for being fluent in the language, so I thought that I was good at speaking and that I would get a perfect score in the oral placement test. But contrary to my expectation, the teachers pointed out issues with my pronunciation and intonation. Despite being able to get my meaning across, the way that I was using the language was quite different from how Koreans actually speak. For me, who was disappointed with these problems, my teachers explained my shortcomings and gave me courage so that I could study my best.

Q Please briefly tell us about your job in Egypt. I think it would have changed a lot before and after COVID-19.
A. I'm still working as a guide in Egypt. I have liked working as a guide since before the COVID-19, and the situation is getting a little better these days so the number of Korean tourists visiting Egypt is increasing. My Korean has improved a lot, so I'm working as a guide and as a translator too.

Q What are your plans for the future?
A. I don't have much time these days to study Korean since I am working as a guide in Egypt. If I have a chance, I wish to go to the Korean language center to study again. I miss my teachers and class friends so much.

Getting to know the daily lives of Korean Language Center students!

Xiao Rui's Day

(Male, Born in Beijing, China, Resides in Seoul)

Regular Program General Korean Course (Morning Session)

9am~1pm

Attends a regular class at the Korean Language Center

I receive a temperature screening check and sanitize my hands once I enter the building, and with an electronic access tag I enter the classroom, where there are partitions. I sit in a cubicle and take the class wearing a face mask. It is a little uncomfortable, but strictly following the COVID-19 public health measures is for everyone's safety.

Quynh's Day

(Female, Resides in Hanoi, Vietnam)

Online Short Program (Weekend Course)

9am~12pm

Attends a short-term online language course offered by the Korean Language Center

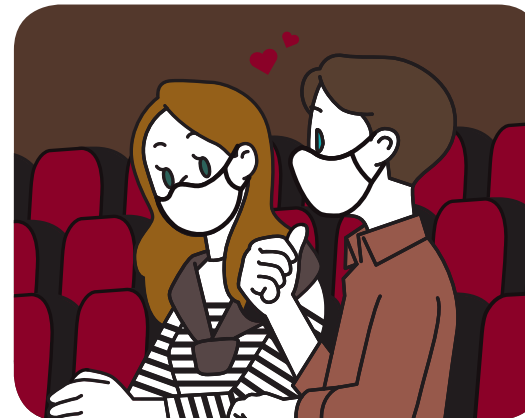

I actually enrolled for a weekend course (11am~2pm), but since the online course is based on Korean Standard Time, students residing abroad have to take classes according to Korean time.

1pm~3pm

Meets a student helper (Doumi)

At the beginning of the semester, I was introduced to a Korea University student online and I was eager to meet my doumi. With the COVID-19 situation showing signs of slowing down in Korea, I finally met my student helper for the first time. We had lunch and went to Gyeongbokgung Palace together. It was great to be able to experience Korean culture and to become closer to my helper.

1pm

Goes on a date to Koreatown

There are many Korean restaurants in Hanoi Korean Town. I went there to eat Samgyeopsal and Bibimbap for lunch. Despite being his first time to try Korean food, my boyfriend told me that it tasted really good. Afterwards, we went to a movie theater and watched a newly released Korean film. It is difficult to understand movies without subtitles, but this motivates me to study Korean harder.

5pm~7pm

Engages in elective activity "Online Korean cooking experience": Makes Jjimdak (steamed chicken) at home

I registered for an online elective course and had a meal kit delivered to my place, which allowed me to easily cook at home. I was able to learn how to cook Korean cuisine while taking a real-time online class from a cooking instructor. Afterwards, I invited some of my classmates over to share the meal.

6pm~7pm

Joins a Korean study group

I have friends who had planned to study in Korea but could not go because of the pandemic. Worrying that it would be difficult to improve my Korean if I stayed in Hanoi, I enlisted four of my friends to study Korean together as a group. We study for the Test of Proficiency in Korean (TOPIK), follow lines of dialogue while watching Korean dramas, and discuss the scenes that we think are impressive.
